

MORPHE, DRAWING TOOLS

WHAT IF THE TOOL MAKES MORE DIFFICULT TO DO THE TASK?

The Morphe set was born from a study about materialization of concepts and alternative approaches to drawing. Una, Dupla and Nora are the result of a project proposed by ESAD design students.

UNA

This tool produces unpredictable movements and results, from a conventional pencil join with a flexible prosthesis. This flexibility and, at the same time, elasticity do, from the act of drawing, an exercise.

DUPLA

It's like a joint between two pencils, which begin to draw in parallel through a spring system that moves away and draws the pencils. And, at the same time that we design, we become choreographers.

NORA

In this ingenious tool the movement is generated from one center, producing two types of spot at the same time. A more charged spot that marks the central axis, and a second lighter spot that goes around the circumference at this same center.
